Response to Amendment

1. Claims 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 9 have been amended. Claims 4, 8 and 10 have been canceled. The rejections under 101 and 112 are reversed in light of the attorney's amendments to the claims.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 7 and 9 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 1-3, 5-7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tamatsu(US 2002/0007323 A1) and Cristofich et al.(US 6173270 B1).

Re claim 1: Tamatsu disclose a credit settlement method in purchasing goods by utilizing a credit card in a system comprising a financial institution server for providing credit service with a user, a processing unit installed in a credit service alliance shop and connected to the financial institution server via a network, and a claim management server for managing claims connected to the financial institution server(Abstract, col. 2, line 25-col. 3, line 10), comprising the steps of:

storing user identification information of a user and credit information associated with the user into the claim management server:

at the time of a purchase made with the credit card promoting, on a display screen of the processing unit the user to choose whether or not selection of a credit card settlement method is to be deferred. and if selection of a credit card settlement method is to be deferred (deferment). to the claim management server via the financial institution server in order to determine whether or not the deferment is authorized based on the credit card information of the user.

Tamatsu fail to teach sending information which indicates the deferment from the processing unit. However, Cristofich et al. does teach deferred payments selected by the user(col. 14, lines 5-65). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art the time the Applicant's invention was made to modify the teachings of Tamatsu to include the step of deferred payments selected by the user. The motivation to combine these references is to effectively give the user more payment options.

4. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
